Frequently Asked Questions

I have got my API key, now what?

Welcome to Alpha Vantage! First of all, check out the example API calls in the API Documentation (https://www.alphavantage.co/documentation/). In addition, the open-source community has created over 200 Alpha Vantage libraries on GitHub (https://github.com/search?q=alpha+vantage) and we hope you can find the language of your choice. And you can always drop us a note (mailto:support@alphavantage.co) anytime!

Are Alpha Vantage APIs realtime?

Yes, the latest data points in our stock, forex (FX), and crypto APIs are derived from the current trading day, updated realtime.

Are there usage/frequency limits for the API service?

We are proud to provide free API service for our global community of users and recommend that you make API requests sparingly (up to 5 API requests per minute and 500 requests per day) to achieve the best server-side performance. If you would like to target a larger API call volume, please visit premium membership (https://www.alphavantage.co/premium/).

Note: If you are a student or educator, chances are that your school already has a data partnership with Alpha Vantage. If not, please ask your school/library administrator to contact partnerships@alphavantage.co (mailto:partnerships@alphavantage.co) for a special partnership plan for educational institutions.

I have built a library/wrapper for Alpha Vantage with a specific programming language. May I open-source it on GitHub?

Certainly - we truly appreciate the help and support from the community to make Alpha Vantage even more accessible and developer-friendly. However, we ask that your language-specific library/wrapper preserves the content of our JSON/CSV responses in both success and error cases. We consider it a top priority that our users get the original debugging and troubleshooting information from Alpha Vantage.

I would like to improve an existing API or propose a new technical indicator / feature to Alpha Vantage. What should I do?

We are obsessed with delivering the best user experience with the highest technical expertise. Please contact us (mailto:support@alphavantage.co) anytime and we can go from there!
